Map of Tulita for newcomers!

There is many places to walk or visit to talk to people. You can walk along the Two Rivers Trail located past the Parks Canada Trailer Building. You can walk through the town, as well as towards Plane Lake Dr to the airport and from Water Intake to the Gas Station. You can walk along the shore, all the way to the bank where the boats load off and where the Barge stops.

Funny Stories

Wedding

A little boy was attending his first wedding. After the service, his cousin asked him, "How many girls can a boy marry?" "Sixteen," the boy responded. His cousin was amazed that he had an answer that he had an answer so quickly. "How do you know that?" "Easy," the little boy said. "All you have to do is add it up, like the Priest said. Four better, four worse, four richer, and four poorer."

Purse

A lady lost her handbag in the bustle of Christmas shopping. It was found by an honest little boy and returned to her. Looking in the purse, she commented, "Hmm, that's funny. When I lost my bag, there was a $20 dollar bill in it. Now there are twenty $1 bills." The boy quickly replied, "That's right, lady. The last time I found a lady's purse, she didn't have any change for a reward!"

School

My 7-year-old son came in from school today and asked me, "Dad, what kind of mouse can walk on two legs?" "Erm, I don't know," I replied. "Mickey Mouse!" He replied laughing. "Dad, what kind of duck can walk on two legs?" "Donald Duck," I replied. My son laughed and said, "No, all ducks you idiot!"

Dogs

A blonde was walking her dogs when a man walking in the opposite direction says, "Oh my, you have such beautiful dogs. What are their names?" The blonde replies, "Well, the taller one is Timex and the shorter one is Rolex." The man responded, "Huh, that's interesting. Why did you name them such names?" The blonde sighs and shakes her head. "Everyone keeps asking me the same thing. Duh! What else can you name your watch dogs?"

Dentist

A Scottish lass, Maggie goes to the dentist. "$85 for an extraction, Ma'am," the dentist said. "Och huv ye nay got anything cheaper?" Replies Maggie, getting agitated. "But that's the normal charge for an extraction, Ma'am," replied the dentist. "What about if ye did nae use any anesthetic?" Asked Maggie hopefully. "Well, it's highly unusual, Ma'am, but if that's what you want, I suppose I can do it for $65.”

“What about if you used one of your dentist trainees and still with too anesthetic?” Asked Maggie.
“Well, it’s possible, but they are only training and I can’t guarantee their level of professionalism. It’ll be a lot more painful, but I suppose in that case, we can bring the price down to say $40.” “Och, that’s still a bit much, how about too if you make it a training session and have your student do the extraction and the other students watching and learning?” The dentist replied, “Well, okay, it’ll be good for the students, I suppose I’ll charge you only $5 in that case, but it will be a traumatic experience.”
“Now you’re talking laddie! It’s a deal,” said Maggie. “Can you book my hubby in for next Wednesday?”

Marooned

Two men were marooned on an island. One man passed back and forth worried and scared while the other man sat back and was sunning himself. The first man said to the second man, “aren’t you afraid we are about to die?” “No,” said the second man, “for you see, I make $100,000 per week and I donate faithfully to my church every week. My pastor will find me.”

Hunters

Three hunters are living in the wilderness together. One of them is extremely smart, one is average, and one is extremely stupid. One day, it is the smart one’s turn to catch and cook dinner. He goes out and comes back with a bear. The other two are astounded and ask, “How did you catch this bear?” The smart one replies, “I see tracks, I follow tracks. I see bear, I shoot bear.” The next day, it is the average man’s turn. He goes out and returns with a deer. The stupid one is amazed to see the catch and asks, “How did you catch this deer?” The average one replies, “I see tracks, I follow tracks, I see deer, I shoot deer.” The next day, the stupid one goes out to hunt and comes back half-dead. The other two ask, “How did you mess up so badly? Didn’t you follow our instructions?” To which the stupid one replies, “I did! I see tracks, I follow tracks. I see train, I shoot train, train hit me.”

Soup

A customer in a restaurant orders a bowl of soup. However, the customer notices that something is wrong. So he calls the waiter over and says, “Can you please taste the soup?” “What’s wrong with the soup?” “Just taste it.” “Why?” “Just taste it.” “Sir, I-” “Just taste it.” “Fine, I’ll taste the soup, where’s the spoon?” “EXACTLY! Bring me a goddamn spoon.”

The voiceless unaspirated is very low volume of air is exhaled during release of constriction. The voiceless aspirated consonants /p, t, k, kw, ts, ch, tl, tth/ are quite heavily aspirated.

The glottalized consonants (ejectives) /p', t', k', kw', ts', ch', tl', tth'/ are usually strongly glottalized. They are often voiced intervocalically. A word like gots'é meaning 'to there' varies between [gots'ɛ́] and [godzɛ́]. It is often realized as creaky voice.

The Fricatives is a consonant produced by forcing air through a narrow channel made by placing two articulators close together. These may be the lower lip against the upper teeth. This turbulent airflow is called frication.

The unaspirated, or plain, consonants are voiceless or weakly voiced. They are often weakly voiced intervocalically.

The oral resonant [r] is most commonly a tap, but varies with a continuant r. A resonant is a speech sound that is produced with continuous, non-turbulent airflow in the vocal tract.

Hare /w'/ is preglottalized, with glottal closure before the [w].

The series labelled 'alveolar' is articulated with the tongue quite far forward and is close to dental in articulation.

The voiceless alveolar stop is often quite heavily velarized [t<sup>x</sup>].

The Slavey interdentals are articulated with the tongue on the upper teeth. The tip of the tongue is quite far forward at the onset.

The onset to the lateral affricates varies between alveolar [dl, tl, tl'] and velar [gl, kl, kl'].

Hare /f/ varies between [f] and [ɸ], a bilabial spirant. It is sometimes a heavily labialized labiodental spirant [f<sup>w</sup>].

Bearlake /wh/ varies phonetically from one speaker to another. It may be [ɸ], [w], [f] or [f<sup>w</sup>].

The velar stops have two allophones, palatal [k, g] before a front vowel and velar otherwise.

- (1.) a. kee [ke] “Foot.”
b. -ka [ka] “Cut.”
c. -koh [koh] “Cough.”

The velar stops may have secondary labialization before a round vowel. They contrast with the labiovelars in the same position where rounding is very strong.

- (2.) a. -koh [koh, k<sup>w</sup>oh] “Cough.”
b. -kwo [kwo] “Yellow.”

The velar fricatives have three allophones: palatal before a front vowel, velar before a back unround vowel, and labialized a round vowel.

- (3.) a. xeníh [xeníh] “Raft.”
b. xah [xah] “Goose.”
c. xoh [x<sup>w</sup>oh] “Thorn.”

Before a round vowel, the voiced velar fricative /gh/ may be labialized. It may also be pronounced [w], a glide. Alternative phonetic pronunciations are given in the phonetic square brackets below.

- (4.) a. -ghú [gh<sup>w</sup>ú, wú] “Tooth.”
b. bighò [bigh<sup>w</sup>ò, bɨwò] “His/her nose.” (Hr, Bl)
c. seghò ʔeniétò [sɛgh<sup>w</sup>ò, seniétò, sɛwò ʔeniétò] “S/he loves me.” (Bl, Sl)

/x/ often varies phonetically between [x] and [h].

- (5.) a. naxe-/raxe-, nahe-/rahe- “Our, your pl.” (Bl, Sl, Mt/Hr)
b. xahwere, hahwere “Leader.” (Hr, Bl)

There is a widespread variation between [zh] and [y] in morpheme-initial position, with both /zh/ and /y/ varying. This variation is apparently free, and is at least not controlled by phonological factors. Alternative possible pronunciations are shown below.

- (6.) a. zha, ya “Sky.”
b. sezhúé, seyúé “My clothes.”

- c. názhéi, náyéi “Treaty.” (Bl, Sl, Mt)
- d. nézhq̄, néyq̄ “S/he grew.” (Bl, Sl, Mt)
- e. ʔezhi, ʔeyi “That.”

The only initial [y]’s that do not vary with [zh] are the initial consonants of the conjugation morpheme and of conjunct morphemes (ye- in Hare, some Bearlake and Mountain, e- elsewhere). The symbol y is used throughout the grammar for this sound when its exact phonetic value is not an issue.
